

IOWA INSURGENTS CARRY STATE CONVENTION

Tariff Law Branded as a Failure and Progressive Congressmen Endorsed--Convention in an Uproar Most of the Time and "Steam Roller" Makes Brief Appearance.

Stand Patters Make a Determined Effort to Carry Out Ideas But Lose on Nearly Every Question Advanced

By Associated Press.
DES MOINES, Ia., August 3.—Republican Iowa wrote herself vigorously progressive today at the convention which was in an uproar most of the time. Senator Cummins and Dolliver and the insurgent delegation to Washington were enthusiastically endorsed. The new tariff was branded a failure in the light of the party pledge of 1908. Taft received a most tepid of lukewarm endorsements. The administration of Governor Carroll was endorsed. An attempt to use the "steam roller" to make the state central committee overwhelmingly progressive was called off presumably at the hint of Senator Cummins. Cummins was temporary chairman and Dolliver was permanent chairman. The progressive majority ranged close to three hundred to every question. The resolution committee was progressive six to five. The following is a synopsis of the day's events:

The appearance and disappearance of the "steam roller" was one of the diverting incidents of the day. It came about through the insistence of the stand-pat members of the platform committee demanding the unqualified endorsement of the Taft administration and the legislative acts of the regulars and hostility to Cummins and Dolliver.

It was determined to exert a little pressure just to show the minority who was running the republican politics in Iowa. The primary law, which provides that the members of the state central committee shall be chosen by the convention was fastened upon as means to this end. It was proposed to disregard the caucus selections in the first and ninth districts, which are stand-pat, and have the convention substitute progressives in their places. After considerable wrangling the caucus nominees were confirmed. This, like the endorsement of the governor, was a concession to harmony. What may have been an attempt to stampede to delegates in favor of the stalwart republicans was made when the second district delegate, former Congressman Rominger, hoisted a portrait of the president, amid the stand-pat cheers. The other side answered with silence or jeers. Later another delegate among the progressives exposed a picture of Roosevelt, occasioning a demonstration. The Taft portrait was again hoisted and the two likenesses held so as to confront one another. The stand-pat delegates went down to defeat with their colors rivited to the mast. They fought every committee where a fight was possible and battled every inch for their principles.

Day is Replete With Incidents Which Serve as a Source of Amusement to the Former President.

By Associated Press.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 3.—Roosevelt traveled 150 miles today among the mountain mining towns of Wyoming valley. He mingled with people of all stations of life, from breaker boys who earn a few dollars a week to society women who are spending the summer at Glen Summit Springs. Late tonight he started for Oyster Bay. An incident typical to the day's happenings occurred in a Wyoming mining hamlet. An old Irish woman stepped up to him and thrusting out her hand, exclaimed:

"Hello Teddy, you're looking fine."
The former president grinned with delight and said he was glad to see her.
"You are looking fine too," he said.
"Yes, indeed," said she, "I'm strong, but you're a fine lump."

The crew are still aboard and the wrecking crew has gone to the scene with the intention of trying to dynamite the rock on which the vessel is stranded in the morning. The Golden Gate life saving crew are also standing by to render aid to the crew if necessary. It is believed the Rolph will be a total loss.

TAFT PAYS ALL HOSPITAL BILLS OF INJURED MAN

By Associated Press.
BEVERLY, August 3.—Michael Grigordie, the Italian laborer who was run down and seriously injured by Robert Taft several weeks ago, left the Beverly hospital today entirely recovered. All the hospital and medical bills were paid by the president.

In all the colonel passed through fifteen towns today. John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America; Father Curran, of Wilkesbarre; and Rev. Father O'Donnell of Stewell, Pa., rode in an automobile with him.

An incident occurred at a tavern near the outskirts of Wyoming. A man who apparently had been spending a large part of the day in a bar room was sleeping on the porch. As the Roosevelt party rode up, the bartender rushed out, and gazed at the travelers and then shook the sleeper.
"Here, wake up, Roosevelt's going by." The reveler rubbed his eyes sleepily, then sprang to his feet.
"Roosevelt's going to buy!" he called out gladly and ran into the bar room. His disappointment was great when the colonel did not stop.

Bones of Father, Mother and Son, Discovered by Searching Party--Believed to Have Been Murdered by Japanese.

By Associated Press.
SANTA ROSA, Cal., August 3.—The bones of three human beings, supposed to be those of Enoch Kendall, his wife, Ura, and son Thomas, were found late this afternoon on Starbuck ranch north of this city. The Kendalls were last seen alive July 23. The bones were found in two piles, located some distance apart. In one pile, containing the remains of two dobles, was found a ring with the initials T. A. K., those of the missing son.

The first pile of bones was found by Assistant District Attorney George Hoyle, Sheriff J. K. Smith and Court Reporter Herbert Wilson, who left for Starbuck ranch this morning to investigate the disappearance of the family. When they reached the ranch house where the Kendalls had lived for the past two years, they found everything in absolute order. There were no signs of any struggle. On the dining table were the dishes, evidently set for a meal, with the food ready but untouched. In the barnyard were found pigs starving. Returning to the house a rigid search began but nothing incriminating was found until the kitchen stove was opened.

When the stove was uncovered, small fragments of bones were found among the ashes. The searchers then discovered a trail of cinders leading from the stove to the kitchen door and beyond. The trail led to a point some distance from the house where the first pile of bones were found. When the bones found in the first pile were shown to Dr. J. W. Jaffe, of this city tonight, he pronounced them to be human bones, some of an aged and others of a younger person.

Suspicion is strongly directed against a Japanese named Henry Yamuchi, who was formerly employed by either the Starbuck or the Kendalls. On the day the Kendalls disappeared, Yamuchi and another Japanese were ordered off the ranch by the older Kendall. Yamuchi was seen on the ranch after the Kendalls' disappearance.

On July 25 a man named Johnson with two boys visited the cabin on the Starbuck ranch, some distance from the ranch house. The door of the cabin was locked and one of the boys crawled through the window. In the rear room of the cabin they found the window heavily draped. While they were standing in the rear room Yamuchi crawled out from under a couch with an open knife in his hand. He laughed, shut the knife, and left the room with the remark that he was "going to town."

CHINESE USE FRAUD TO ENTER THIS COUNTRY

Arrest of Wealthy Chinese Merchant by Immigrant Inspector Discloses the Fraudulent Practices.

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, August 3.—By the arrest today of Jew Loy Sing, a wealthy Chinese merchant, Immigration Inspector Richard Taylor, claims to have disclosed a method whereby hundreds of Chinese have obtained fraudulent entry to this country. According to Taylor the clerks in the office of the United States district court for the northern district of California are badly involved by the disclosures. It was stated that the arrest of Jew Loy Sing was brought about by the confession of a youthful deputy in the clerk's office.

Jew Loy Sing is specifically accused of altering and changing a public document by substituting a photograph of an unknown Chinese for that of Gee Jung Kee in the court record of habeas corpus proceedings which resulted in the admission of the latter to this country. Taylor declared the substitution was practiced upon no less than three hundred habeas corpus court records in the district court clerk's office here. In some cases more than one substitution was made on the same record until it became practically impossible to trace the original.

The Chinese who posed as Gee Jung Kee, with the latter's habeas corpus papers, succeeded in securing the entry of three Chinese as his sons and was preparing to have three more pseudo sons and one daughter permitted to land when the plot was discovered. Inspector Taylor estimated that the two Chinese expected to make $10,000 from the use of the substituted papers.
